Benazir Bhutto was the first woman leader in an Islamic country, probably destined to win the next elections. Her death signs the end of a dream of democracy and excited hate and urgency against Islamic terrorism. In her last interviews Benazir Bhutto accused ISI, the powerful secret service of Pakistan, to intent to kill her as well as some people connected with Zia-ul-haq who feared to loose their power if Pakistan would become democratic. She accuses also Musharraf who didn't give her the necessary protection. The father , Ali Bhutto was the creator of Pakistan Popular Party.
