

GANDHI

Gandhi was born on 2nd October 1869. He was the son of a servant. He went to high school, graduated in London. He was the first man to reach his aim without violence. He spent a period of long civil wars in India to obtain independence. However his goal ,the liberty, was gained at a very high cost because many people were killed in his movements against the English. Why was he a hero? Because even if he lost people at his side he never surrendered and always looked ahead more closely at the liberation. Gandhi really saw his dreams realized on 15th August 1947 when India's independence was proclaimed. But it was a fanatic Indus to kill him, on 30th January 1948 in Delhi the Indian capital, at the end of a religious ceremony.
